The Bookshop on the Corner

by Jenny Colgan

About the Book

Nina Redmond is a literary matchmaker. Pairing a reader with that perfect book is her passion? and also her job. Or at least it was. Until yesterday, she was a librarian in the hectic city. But now the job she loved is no more.

Determined to make a new life for herself, Nina moves to a sleepy village many miles away. There she buys a van and transforms it into a bookmobile --- a mobile bookshop that she drives from neighborhood to neighborhood, changing one life after another with the power of storytelling.

From helping her grumpy landlord deliver a lamb, to sharing picnics with a charming train conductor who serenades her with poetry, Nina discovers there?s plenty of adventure, magic and soul in a place that?s beginning to feel like home?a place where she just might be able to write her own happy ending.

Discussion Guide

At this time, there is no guide available for this title. Here, instead, is a fun extended author bio:

Meet Jenny Colgan

I have three children and live in Edinburgh. Wallace is 11 and likes pretending he?s 17 and doesn?t know us; Michael-Francis is eight and likes making new friends on airplanes; and Delphine is six and mostly raccoon, so far as we can tell at this point.

Stuff I Like

About a million years ago I had my old website with a list on it of stuff I liked, and for some reason people liked it, too. I don?t know why; it?s entirely solipsistic. Even though I am obviously against, you know, defining yourself by your possessions and interests, blah blah blah.
